

BOLDLY GOING UNDERSEA

You got everyone on the plane. You fit them all for fins and masks and taught the kids not to breath without their snorkel. They know that brightly colored fish are pretty but also pretty poisonous. Ditto for coral.

Now that you've got the whole family out and under the sea, and you can capture it all with that boldly going-anywhere waterproof smartphone case. What you're not thinking about is backing up the laptop with all of these pictures. Or the phone you're taking them with before it synchs. Or the tablet you'll share them with. You put a lot into making these memories and you didn't need one more thing to think about, so Norton thought about it for you. Boldly Go with Norton 360.

Zip Lining
Bear Mountain, NY

Grab an action camera and strap in. This wild ride through the trees and over the canopy is the best way to see a new location and get a bold rush of adrenaline as you explore the last days of lush, green forest.

Carolina Kayaking Adventure
Paired with a hike and a barbecue picnic, Kayaking the shores of the Carolinas will open up your family to a new world of wildlife and tranquility. If you can peel them away from their devices.
